REVIEWS

"I love the amusing piano intro of the song. The instruments are well composited and arranged to create a very dreamy, bright and fresh rhythm. The song brings me to a green, peaceful nature with gentle waterfall in a forest. This song has a very imaginary, which is appropriate for calming soul and emotion at night!"

"The beginning of the song sounds like a genius pianist, leading to even better piano playing. The piano playing is very soft and smooth. They slowly add instruments, which contribute to the melody and harmony. I really think they should've added vocals to this song, which would make the song even more entertaining. The instruments are excellent, but you can never go wrong with vocals."

"The piano is a great part of this track. the other instruments being freedom to the track the length of this song is three minutes and one second. i enjoy hearing the hi hat in this mix the bass blends well for a good tempo on the track"

"I like the piano intro. It leads into the song nicely. The song then turns into a more oldies type of musical composition and gives off an oriental theme with the flutes and violins that begin to kick in as the song continues and develops. "

"The music is amazing love the song the artist sings very well. i love the vocals sound amazing. i love the instrumental it is amazing and made the song great i love it so much its so great the singer is amazing and i love the music so much. the vocals are just amazing i love this so much just so great and would recommend to anyone i know. the beat is just amazing and sounds awesome. i love this song so much "

"Nice beginning , not really a song i would enjoy listening to because theres no words . Nice instrumental can be used on a japanese or fighting movie is what it reminds me of . Not my kind of style but it works . Really mellow tone relaxing not to harsh"

"This song sounds like some sort of musical performances and it is played professionally in my opinion. The production is technical and talented. The instrument is streaming through fluently and smoothly. The vocal sounds are unheard here. I rate this song an 10 out of 10."

"This a good kind of love song.The song base and lead is awesome.The soft and slow beat of the song make the song just awesome to me.Thee song sound system is like old song but there is also taste of modern music.But I think they should improve their song quality and also change the artist."

"I love the instruments throughout the song. I think it brings so much to this song I like how original it is. The song is very relaxing to listen to. The only thing I would say is that after a while it feels like the song doesn't progress that much"

"The audio quality sounds a tad bit rusty on this one, to me, especially the piano. It has a really strong 80s-sound to it, which I'm not a huge fan of. The instrumentals are pretty well done, though. It feels like it's missing something without any vocals, though, in my opinion. I could see it maybe being used for a commercial or a movie soundtrack or something, but I doubt it would be very successful on the radio, personally."

"The piano in the beginning is very nice, lovely if I must say, The drums on it are very quite and chill sounding making it a very calm song, This is something I would listen to while studying or on a date, good song, I wish there was lyrics to it though."

"I think that the piano is definitely out of this world in my personal opinion. I was able to feel the melody inside of me and the slund of it is very alluring. I also think that the percussion drum set plays a very smooth tune as well. I am also liking the synth tone in the song. Overall, I am liking the echo sound in this track. Especially when the guitar melody comes on. You should probably consider adding some vocals to this."

"This music was very beautiful. It's important for songs with no words to still tell a story which this song successfully did. The instruments used and the fashion in which they were used was done more than well. The progression of the music was executed perfectly. Overall, this was very enjoyable."

"there is a piano playing many notes at the start of this song. my guess is that this song has no lyrics. i like the violin or whatever it is in the background. i would describe this song as smooth. i like this a lot for some reason but i dont knoe why."

"This song is very calming with the piano playing. It's uplifting and relaxing at the same time. I like the guitar playing a bit to give this song a little change and depth. It's an all instrumental song. The composition of this song is nice too."

"not a big fan of this music it's not really my style. but it is a good song. other people might listen to it a lot. if it had slow nice lyrics it would be good. i don't really like it though. the piano and violin aren't a good match"

"the piano for this song sounds amazing, it is well played, quick and sweet. however the production is absolutely awful. this song could be beautiful, but it's so poorly recorded, it sounds unclear, unprofessional and far away. it has a hollow sound as well. nicely executed, but very bad recording."

"So far this song is not good at all. The production of this is completely terrible. I've heard a lot better music than this, this is just terrible. There's no vocals in this. The instrumentals are not good at all like this song should not be heard at all"

"The keyboards sound very nice at the start of the track. There is a good symphonic feel to this track. The melodies have a soaring New Age quality to them. The arrangement is very good and it is well produced. The sound is excellent as well."

"Very soothing kind of reminds me of when in Chinese movies they start learning something and they start playing these types of songs. The songs are good I love the instrumentals as well as for the production. Overall I'd give this a 8 out of a 10."

"The piano introduction felt a bit too hard on the ear but gave a sense of elegance to the song. However, the equalisation and drum kit used makes it sound more like a 1980s pop ballad. The synth/guitar used is a bit too loud for headphones and seems to be a bit overpowering on the track, along with the electric guitar. The strings could be used more and earlier on to make the track sound more important. There is very little if any vocals in the song, which is a shame."

"Beautiful movement in the intro, just that part could be a great hook. When drums come in it starts to feel pushed, almost off beat. Overall beat and music cohesion is lacking. The "celion Dion lead part" is a bit cliché but I get what you are going for. The electric guitar part is mixed way too far in the back, and the track could use better use of compression. The guitars of this are not bad, but the drums have to be redone. And I would rethink the arrangement it's a little thrown together sounding."

"Intro is very good. The build is a little too slow and leaves me wanting more. I have been waiting for lyrics this whole time. No climax whatsoever. Need more personality in this song. However this song could be used as a sleep aid. Where is the singer?"

"The production value of this piece was a little scattered, with audio levels varying even on the same instrument. The pacing was slightly off, and I don't feel that it developed beyond the initial basic piano rhythm and synth. The electrical guitar went some way to filling out the piece dynamically, but in all it felt a little flat. Didn't particularly enjoy it."

"Starts out strong, nice, I see this being in a movie, play, dance musical, something about love and happiness. Smooth and easy listening. The instrumental beats are a perfect melody all united in a matrimonial harmony to express love and happiness, pleasure and perhaps even lust"
